

Bio

Dr. Richard Fossey

Richard Fossey is the Paul Burdin/BORSF Professor of Education in the Department of Educational Leadership at UL Lafayette, where he teaches courses in education law and policy. He has published numerous books and articles on education topics. His research interests include the student loan crisis, and he maintains an active blog on this topic at condemnedtodebt.org. He is Editor of Catholic Southwest, the nation's only regional Catholic history journal, and also serves on the Educational Advisory Board of Teachers College Record and Education Law Reporter. Professor Fossey obtained his law degree from the University of Texas School of Law and his doctorate from Harvard University.